

From The Desk Of
Daggett County Commissioners and Mayors

April 14, 2020

Dear Daggett County Residents,

As Mayors and Commissioners in Daggett County we have the utmost concern for our community Health and Safety. We have all taken an oath to the Utah and US Constitution, protection of the health, safety and welfare of our citizens is paramount in that oath.

We are currently in daily contact with our state, federal and local health professionals regarding COVID-19. One thing we know all too well is that policies are never one size fits all. Daggett County is not Summit or Salt Lake County. We are also not physicians, epidemiologists, nor the Governor of this state. We rely on our state and local health officials for guidance during this critical and challenging time.

It is thought that the COVID-19 virus may already be active in our communities. We have cases in Uintah, Duchesne, Summit, Moffat and Sweetwater County's not to mention many other counties throughout our state and our neighbors in Colorado and Wyoming. We have friends, neighbors, and family who travel out of our communities either daily or weekly to work. They are traveling to those counties with confirmed cases. We also have people traveling our highways each day stopping and fueling, getting groceries, etc. With that in mind, following the guidance for social distancing and hygiene are by far our best defense.

At this point and time we are following the guidance of our state and local health officials, we have no plans for enacting additional unilateral health orders. We will follow the guidance and direction of those who are educated and trained to handle these situations, those with much more data, knowledge, and authority than we have.

A well thought out approach to COVID-19 is critical at this crucial time. A measured approach is a necessity. Please follow the guidance of our federal, state, and local health departments. Take personal accountability for yourselves and loved ones. It's time to unite not divide. Together we will get through this.

We are Daggett Strong! Stay Home, Stay Safe,
