Commissioner Corner

Keeping you Informed

What an incredible summer it has been! We've seen our community come alive with a fantastic array of events, bringing people together from all walks of life. From fishing and wildlife excursions to boating, concerts, rodeos, the Tower Rock Run, and the Daggett Daze parade—there truly was something for everyone to enjoy. We are incredibly fortunate to call such a beautiful and inspiring area home, and we extend our deepest gratitude to all the community members and visitors who make Daggett County such a wonderful place to be.

As we transition into fall and winter, we're excited about even more to come! Don't forget to keep a close eye on the progress of the Daggett County Health, Business, and Community Center! Each day something new emerges.

Peanut Butter Pudding

Instructions

1. Preheat oven to 350°. Place flour and butter in a food processor; cover and process until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add 1 cup cashews; pulse a few times until combined.
2. Press into a greased 13x9-in. baking dish. Bake until golden brown, 25-28 minutes. Cool completely on a wire rack.
3. In a small bowl, beat the cream cheese, peanut butter and confectioners' sugar until smooth. Fold in 1 cup whipped topping. Spoon over crust.
4. In another bowl, whisk milk and both pudding mixes for 2 minutes. Let stand until soft-set, about 2 minutes. Spread over cream cheese layer. Top with remaining whipped topping. Sprinkle with chopped candy bar and remaining cashews. Cover and refrigerate for at least 1 hour before serving.

Ingredients

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup cold butter, cubed
- 1-1/2 cups chopped cashews, divided
- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 1/3 cup creamy peanut butter
- 1 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1 carton (12 ounces) frozen whipped topping, thawed, divided
- 2-2/3 cups cold 2% milk
- 1 package (3.9 ounces) instant chocolate pudding mix
- 1 package (3.4 ounces) instant vanilla pudding mix
- 1 milk chocolate candy bar (1.55 ounces), coarsely chopped

Traffic Diverted onto New US-191 Alignment

(VERNAL, Utah) After nearly 18 months of construction, UDOT has diverted traffic onto the new US-191 alignment and closed the switchbacks located approximately 12 miles north of Vernal. Crews are still working to complete the new roadway, including shoulder work, median work, guardrail, and various other tasks. Currently traffic is limited to a single lane in both directions with reduced speed through the work zone. The passing lanes will remain closed until work is completed. Drivers can expect minor slowdowns in the area. The project is expected to be complete by October of this year.

The new alignment replaces 2.6 miles of switchbacks along this portion of the highway with longer wider curves. Once completed, the new alignment will include a continuous uphill climbing lane and a downhill passing lane, a new runaway truck ramp, and wider shoulders.

For more information about the project, visit udotinput.utah.gov/us191realigned.

Flaming Gorge Community Foundation

The Flaming Gorge Community Foundation is a 501 (c)(3) organization with a mission to help improve the economy in the Flaming Gorge area. We have helped with the Shooting Complex, which has received two grants from the State of Utah for improvements that have been completed and are underway. We have also helped with the Food Pantry, Search and Rescue and events in the area like the Dutch John Fireworks. We are a completely volunteer organization and could use some additional board members to help grow the offerings and assistance we provide. If you are interested in helping out or contributing to any of these projects or others in the area, please contact us at brian@flaminggorgecf.org or 435-880-7550.

Tommy Ortega

It is with profound sadness that the family of Tommy Ortega, a beloved husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, brother, uncle, and friend, announces his passing. Tommy passed on July 30, 2025, at the University of Utah Hospital following injuries sustained from a tragic automobile accident. He was born on January 12, 1948, in Rock Springs, the firstborn child of Domenico and Audilia Ortega.

Tommy's life was marked by adventure, service, and a genuine passion for helping others. He was raised in Green River and developed a love for working with his hands at a young age. During the Vietnam War, he served honorably in the Army, stationed in Germany, as a diesel mechanic working on tanks. His sharp mind and skilled hands often took him exploring Europe on weekends, taking the bullet train, and soaking in new sights and experiences.

Throughout his life, he worked as a cement mason, bringing his craftsmanship and precision to every construction project he was involved in. Also, a dedicated mechanic, Tommy loved tinkering with old trucks and restoring them to their former glory. His greatest passion, however, was fishing. Whether at the Green River or Flaming Gorge Lake, he found peace on the water and often said, "a bad day of fishing is better than a good day at work." His kindness and willingness to lend a hand were evident to all who knew him; he was always ready to help friends and neighbors with vehicle repairs, offer a ride, or assist wherever help was needed.

Tommy married Norma Flores and had three children. He later married his sweetheart, Rose Marie Lell, and had one daughter.

He is survived by his children, Tomas Ortega, Marina Ortega Eldridge (Ty), and Mataya Ortega; his stepchildren, Erika Kersey, Christopher Kersey, Kelly Lell, and Amberly Lell; ten grandchildren; one great-granddaughter; brother Lawrence Ortega; and three sisters, Judy, Paula, and Liz Ortega.

He was preceded in death by his daughter, Marcy Ortega, his parents, brothers Dean, Floyd, and Frank Ortega, and son-in-law Mario DeHalle.

Tommy's legacy is one of unwavering service, love, and kindness. His memory will forever be cherished by all whose lives he touched. Rest in peace Tommy.

You will be deeply missed, but always remembered.

Carolyn Martinsen Slaugh

On August 31, 2025, after 84 years our beloved mother, grandmother, great grandmother and friend to everyone returned to her Heavenly Father and the arms of loved ones who had gone before her.

Carolyn was born on July 6th, 1941, in Vernal, Utah to D'Almaine (Dal) and Helen Martinsen. Carolyn grew up in Vernal with siblings Clyde (Dawn) Martinsen, Pauline (Lynn) Smuin and Garth (Betty) Martinsen.

On June 5th, 1959, Carolyn married the love of her life Nolan Reid Slaugh. Together, Carolyn and Nolan had five children: Mike (Lisa) Slaugh, Patty (Paul) Halladay, Rod Slaugh, Judy (Lynn) Aardema, Rick (Mandy) Slaugh and 44 grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Carolyn had a beautiful smile and loved to laugh, she had a way to make everyone around her feel loved and welcome, her joy was spending time with her family and friends and she was an amazing cook. Carolyn's presence while not the loudest in the room was always the warmest.

Carolyn was an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Throughout her earthly life she bore an unwavering testimony to her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and honored several callings from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Carolyn was preceded in death by her husband Nolan, son Ricky and grand- daughters, Amber and Tanaka.

The Slaugh family would like to express their love and gratitude to the staff at Quality Hospice and the family members that unselfishly dedicated their time taking care of Carolyn with patience, love and care during the last few years of her time on this earth while she battled the cruel disease of dementia.

Ashley National Forest Begins Prescribed Fires

Favorable weather conditions in place for hazardous fuels reduction work

Vernal, September 19, 2025 - Ashley National Forest is planning prescribed fire operations this fall. The work will continue through November as weather conditions allow. Prescribed fires help prevent the spread of wildfire to local communities, infrastructure and natural resources by reducing overgrown vegetation.

Prescribed fires planned for the area include:

- D1 Ponderosa Pine Maintenance and Fuels Reduction Project – Planned units consist of locations adjacent to Highway 191 by Greendale, Glendale Willie Spring and along the Highway 44 corridor near Moose Pond and Dowds Hole.
- Consideration of burning in nearby project units will be made if required conditions within the initial units are not available or if resources and opportunities permit.

These areas may close to the public for several days for public safety. Watch for warning signs along roads near all prescribed fire areas before and during burns.

Residents may experience smoke during the prescribed burns. Go to <https://fire.airnow.gov/> for more detailed information about air quality. When driving, slow down and turn on your headlights when you encounter smoke on the road.

Weather conditions will be evaluated in the hours before a burn begins. If conditions warrant, scheduled prescribed fire activities may be canceled.

The public may call the Ashley Supervisors Office at 435-781-1181 or the Flaming Gorge Ranger District at 435-784-3445 with questions.

Stay informed about the scheduled prescribed fires through the forest website, social media channels, and InciWeb, the interagency incident information system. County emergency management officials will be notified when burning begins.

About the Forest Service: The USDA Forest Service has for more than 100 years brought people and communities together to answer the call of conservation. Grounded in world-class science and technology– and rooted in communities–the Forest Service connects people to nature and to each other. The Forest Service cares for shared natural resources in ways that promote lasting economic, ecological, and social vitality. The agency manages 193 million acres of public land, provides assistance to state and private landowners, maintains the largest wildland fire and forestry research organizations in the world. The Forest Service also has either a direct or indirect role in stewardship of about 900 million forested acres within the U.S., of which over 130 million acres are urban forests where most Americans live.

DWR requests anglers harvest specific fish species at 2 waterbodies to help improve fisheries

Salt Lake City — With cooler temperatures on the horizon, some anglers may be gearing up for fall fishing in Utah. If you are planning to fish at Flaming Gorge Reservoir or Pelican Lake, the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources is requesting the harvest of specific fish species that are negatively impacting the fishery.

When certain fish species become too numerous in a waterbody, they can reduce the overall food supply for all the fish and can also impact other species (like if the fish prey on other fish). When this happens, it can cause the fish in the waterbody to grow slower and remain smaller.

“Historically, anglers used to harvest more fish, which would help keep fish numbers lower and ensure that the food supply for the fish at any given waterbody was shared with a smaller number of individual fish,” DWR Sportfish Coordinator Trina Hedrick said. “But now, more anglers prefer to participate in catch-and-release fishing, which leaves more fish in the system and increases competition for limited resources. Each lake or reservoir has a maximum number of fish it can sustain. When the waterbody exceeds that, you’ll eventually see an overabundance of skinny, smaller fish. We tend to think of reservoirs as having endless resources, but really, they are just giant fish bowls, and anyone who takes care of an aquarium can tell you that too many fish can have negative impacts.”

There are a few waterbodies in Utah where this is happening, so the DWR is asking anglers to harvest specific fish species that they catch in the following areas:

Small lake trout at Flaming Gorge Reservoir

The DWR and Wyoming Game and Fish Department are requesting that anglers catch and keep small lake trout — less than 28 inches — at Flaming Gorge Reservoir. Currently, the popular reservoir in northeastern Utah — known for producing some of the largest lake trout in the U.S. — has too many small lake trout in it. Lake trout are known to be predators on fish like kokanee and rainbow trout. The abundant population of smaller lake trout has impacted the kokanee salmon and rainbow trout populations in the fishery and reduced the number of fish available for the trophy lake trout to eat.

“By keeping small lake trout, anglers are truly one of our best partners in helping maintain a balanced fishery,” Hedrick said. “A balanced fishery serves everyone by providing a healthy lake trout fishery with enough resources to continue growing world-trophy lake trout, while also providing a nationally-recognized destination kokanee fishery. To help with increased harvest, we have removed the wasting restriction on small lake trout from Flaming Gorge Reservoir. We encourage anglers to prioritize eating the fish or sharing them with others for consumption. Anglers can also use the harvested fish to fertilize their gardens or compost bins with fish — or you can even feed your pets fresh fish. If anglers choose not to take their harvested lake trout home, please deflate their swim bladders and sink them into the reservoir to return their nutrients as a food source for other fish.”

Fishing can be excellent for lake trout this time of year. Anglers should target lake trout under 17 inches in deep areas (50-75 feet) along channel walls. Lake trout between 17-25 inches have started migrating to spawning areas and can currently be found in graveled and sloped areas. For anyone trolling, lures like a dodger and squid will work, as well as spoons and crankbaits about 3 inches in size. For those who like to vertically jig, tubes tipped with sucker or chub meat will work, as well as jigging spoons and blade baits in 3/8-ounce weight. The color of lure can vary, but white, chartreuse and even pink will work, depending on the day.

For more information about the Flaming Gorge fishery, listen to the DWR Wild podcast.
